

ABOUT ME

Hello I'm Cameron Bolden, I am a graphic designer who loves photography and advertising. In the next 5 years I want to be one of the top designers around.Sports is a big part of my life, being an athlete is one of the reasons I have a strong work ethic. I have a really diverse background which I feel helps me when I'm designing. I was a psychology major before I changed to graphic design and I also minored in advertising. I'm a fun outgoing person who strives to be the best I can be. I want to work at a place where i can both contribute but be in a place that will push me to grow into a better designer. My favorite aspects of design are branding, web, and packaging.
